Dear Customer,

Hello London! Experience the luxury and comfort of our Airbus A330-300 now flying between Johannesburg and London from 25 March 2018. Why not plan to be in London for an Easter Egg Hunt or treat yourself to a chocolate treat at Charbonnel et Walker, who’ve been chocolatiers since 1875. Or maybe you just want to stroll through one of the world’s greatest cities as it shakes off winter.

SAA is ready to take you wherever your bucket list commands you to go and we’ll get you there in style.

Regards,

South African Airways

Introducing our A330-300 on the London route

Experience the luxury and comfort of our A330-300 on the London route from the 25th of March 2018. The fleet’s comfortable interiors, warm colours and relaxed atmosphere will make you feel right at home during your journey.

For our Business Class customers, we offer a new design of flat-bed that's almost 2 metres long when fully extended. With an updated cabin layout, each of these seats has increased privacy, individual aisle access and offer even more personal stowage. Enjoy the added comfort and increased privacy provided by our innovative, luxurious new cabin.

Economy Class is fitted with 203 newly designed, slim-line seats, all with extra personal space and generous legroom for travelling comfort. Each seat is fitted with a 10.1-inch screen, individual USB charging ports, and access to shared PC power points.

“The A330-300s offer more Business Class seats than any aircraft already in the SAA fleet. In total, the aircraft has capacity for 249 passengers, with 46 in Business Class and 203 in Economy Class. They are quieter than previous generation aircraft, equipped with advanced avionics and navigation systems, and have ultra-fuel-efficient Rolls-Royce Trent engines, resulting in lower fuel burn and, as a result, lower carbon emissions,” adds SAA CEO, Vuyani Jarana.

How Visitors Can Help During the Cape Town Drought

The Western Cape and the city of Cape Town remain one of our most beautiful and popular destinations despite the ongoing drought. Help us keep it the amazing destination it is by helping the city save water when you visit.

Every little action you take can make a difference. Help avoid Day Zero by:

- If you are in Cape Town you’re by the sea, take a dip in the ocean or tidal pools instead of a hotel pool.
- If possible, choose to stay in accommodation that has implemented water saving plans.
- Re-use your towels instead of having housekeeping wash them daily.
- Only flush the toilet when absolutely necessary. Collect your bath or shower water in a bucket to use in the toilet.
- Take very short showers. It easy. Wet your body, turn off the tap, soap, then rinse quickly.
- Don’t let the tap run when brushing your teeth, shaving or drinking.

Check before you travel

Your bags are packed, you’re ready to go… but do you have everything you need to board the airplane? Many travellers are not aware of international travel restrictions and requirements. Things like visitor’s visas, foreign entry and vaccination requirements are just some of the details to verify for successful travel preparation.

Passport, visa and health requirements can vary according to your country of citizenship and your destination. It is the traveller’s responsibility to comply with entry requirements in any country. Please check the requirements with the consulate or embassy of all countries on your itinerary.

We encourage all international travellers to visit the IATA Travel Center for information on Passport, Visa and Health requirements.
