Dear Customer,

Nelson Mandela's legacy is one of reconciliation, freedom and equality. Above all, we remember his ethos of serving his country and its people. And as we remember his work on his birthday this month, we reflect on our own role as SAA to serve our nation in the spirit of Ubuntu - by tirelessly working to uphold our values as a world-class premium airline. This month we are proud to celebrate more achievements and awards as a result of these efforts.

Read more about it in this month's newsletter. We also have some great promotions and deals from our partner network.

Kind Regards

South African Airways

Creating an environment that is conducive to learning is an integral part of education. We have partnered with the Gauteng Department of Education to set up 27 Schools of Specialisation that offer technical and vocational content.

To help, SAA Technical donated a Boeing 747 jet engine to the newly opened Curtis Nkondo School of Specialisation School in Soweto. This unique feature was placed in hopes of giving the learners a tangible form of inspiration and reminder of the kinds of careers their studies can build towards.
