Dear {FIRSTNAME} {LASTNAME},

It is hard to believe we are now at the halfway mark for 2016. The Festive Season and New Year's celebrations feel like they happened yesterday.

And while the winter chill is now setting in here down south, this month London will be basking in glorious sunshine. Yes, June means strawberries and cream, the sounds of grunts and cheers as green balls are smacked all over the perfect grass courts of The All England Club in Wimbledon. Why not fly north to catch all the hot action live? Scroll down for more details.

If you fancy a more local destination - we may have an idea or two for that too.

Kind Regards

South African Airways

Like an aquatic aurora: The Sardine Run

Around the beginning of May of every year, one of the greatest marine mysteries of the planet occurs. Large shoals of sardine, stretching for kilometres on end slide down the South Coast of KwaZulu-Natal. They remain until the end of July, creating a huge visual spectacle of colour which is hugely popular amongst the locals and tourists alike. As the season turns they disappear back into the depths of the ocean - only to return the following year.

The Sardine Run has to be experienced to be believed. Whether it is from the coast, from the sky, on the water or even underwater, why not make your way down to the South Coast to see the Sardine Run.
New Amenity Kits

We've taken our Proudly South African approach a step further by using the talents of a young local designer to redesign our onboard amenity kit.

The kit, stocked with luxury products to enhance customers’ travel experience, will be available on Business Class international flights from this month.

Conceptualised by Johannesburg-based Mphelane Boitumelo Mareletse, the design was inspired by SAA’s brand purpose, which is to be a catalyst for African growth.

Sawubona

The year's only halfway done and our trophy cabinet is already filling up. SAA's already been named "Best Airline in Africa" and having the "Best Business Class to Africa" in the annual Best in Business Travel Awards survey by readers of Business Traveler Magazine.

Now our inflight magazine, Sawubona, scooped the award for Africa's leading in-flight magazine at the World Travel Awards™ in Zanzibar. It is the second year in a row that Sawubona won this award. It is testament to the hard work the teams at SAA Group Corporate Affairs and Ndalo Media's been putting in every month for the last two decades to create a world-class product to delight, entertain and inform our customers in the sky.

Wimbledon

When you think tennis, you think Wimbledon. Perfectly manicured lawns, the sounds of ooh's and aah's and crowds cheering their favourites on. The All England Club has been the place where many legendary matches have been played. Why not get into the thick of the action this year?

Hermanus FynArts

Nestled between the mountains that skirt the Cape’s Overberg’s coast lies the beautiful seaside village of Hermanus. Although it's famous for some of the world's best whale watching, the town also puts on a fine festival - appropriately named Hermanus Fynarts. The event runs from 10 to 19 June and the programme is packed with experiences to delight all of the senses and sensibilities. If you need an excuse to soak up the winter charms of Hermanus, this is it. There’s something for the whole family.
